NATION'S COMMERCE MOSTLY UNDER FLAG

More of Its Vessels in For-

EXCEL IN EFFICIENCY

Foreign Craft.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Growth of United States shipping in foreign trade, establishment of extensive passenger services in the north Atlantic, the Pacific and to South America, and stabilization of the Government's shipping venture on a strictly business basis are pointed to as the year's outstanding achievements in the sixth annual report of the Shipping Board.

The functions of the board since its inception to carry forward the nation's tremendous efforts to transport food, troops and supplies overseas during the war, the report notes, have been extended until they relate not only to the physical running of ships but range over the entire field of a nation's merchant marine.

"The board," the report says, "is required not only to aid in the development of ship and shipping companies but also to assist in planning the improvement and development of ports and transportation facilities in connection with water commerce."

50,000 Seamen Under Flag.

The board has had during its career 3,444 ships, totaling about 19,595,900 deadweight tons. Some have been sold and many are now tied up idle. The report shows that, notwithstanding depression in shipping, there were at the close of the fiscal year, on June 30, approximately 50,000 men engaged on vessels of the American merchant marine and a larger number of longshoremen employed in loading and unloading.
 More than $10,000,000 annually has been saved by reduction of marine and longshore wages of Shipping Board vessels.

Reductions after strikes and negotiations ranged from 15 to 25 per cent.
 The policy of the board in making wage readjustments is declared based wherever possible "upon collective bargaining, which has resulted in allying as far as possible the discontent and resultant which usually follow wage reductions."

During the year there were 37,312 arrivals and departures of vessels engaged in foreign trade aggregating 50,211,000 long tons of cargo. Of this total 52 per cent. moved in American bottoms. In relative efficiency indicated by the relation of load to deadweight tonnage the American percentage was 73.9 per cent. compared with 36.4 per cent. of foreign.
 While American ships used 2.62 dead-weight tons to move each ton of cargo, foreign vessels used 2.74.

Recounting the difficulties encountered in the board's effort to dispose of its idle tonnage, the report says no one was willing to buy in large quantities at anything like a fair price under present conditions. The effort to find buyers was continuing, but the board still had for sale 1,586 vessels, totalling 10,809, 172 deadweight tons. Of these 1,256 were steel cargo ships and 225 were wooden cargo ships, while the remainder were of steel, wooden, composite and concrete types. The transfer of the fleet to private hands, if it is to be accomplished as part of the building up of the American merchant marine, must be a slow process, the report adds.

World Tonnage Deteriorating.

"Perhaps one of the most favorable factors that will help in the gradual working out of the problem is that a large percentage of the world's tonnage is now over fifteen years of age, and is approaching that period when the cost of maintaining the highest classification becomes so serious a factor in operation as to influence operators to purchase other tonnage rather than to pay the heavy cost of keeping up older vessels," the report says.

"The increase in value of the vessels due to the demand that will come in the next few years as a result of the growing age of the world's tonnage should, however, more than compensate for the cost of upkeep during the period that must elapse before these factors become controlling ones."

During the year the wooden fleet was reduced by 28 vessels, and the cost of the upkeep of the fleet was reduced by $41,000. The maintenance cost stood at $19 per vessel annually.

The amount from sale of "outlying projects" was $1,844,750, representing a return from property which had been given a "present fair value" of $2,112,800.
 The report says that "in accordance with agreement made with the office of the chief coordinator," sales and transfers were made at prices 15 per cent. below "present fair value." Sales from real estate brought in an additional $8,085,722. Notable among the economies recorded was a reduction of $1,043,075 in salaries through reduction of the personnel of the maintenance and repair department by 423 employees.

Says New Husband Practiced
It on Her.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Mrs. George Rohrer, formerly Mrs. Jake Hamon, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit Court to-day charging that her new husband, whom she married within a year after the Oklahoma politician had been killed by Clara Smith Hamon, had "practiced Jiu Jitsu until he became proficient and then used her as a victim of his prowess, both in a playful mood and in anger."

She asked for absolute divorce, "ample alimony" and immediate restraining orders to prevent him from disposing of his home, its furnishings or any of his real or personal property.

She charges, too, that he, though a man of great wealth, with $100,000 worth of paintings and $30,000 worth of other furnishings in the Chicago home, never gave her anything but meagre amounts of money.

Tiger Room for Tiger with Tawny Hangings

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Georges Clemenceau, "Tiger" of France, is going to feel at home when he returns to Chicago Monday to address the meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The federation has selected the "tiger room" of a hotel—so called because of its tawny, striped hangings—as the scene of the meeting.

BOROUGHS 'PAY UP' BY ROBBING PETER

Presidents Defer Meeting Bills and With Surpluses Get $850,000 for Year.

The Borough Presidents who recently were appointed to find means of financing the city for the remainder of 1922 reported yesterday to the committee of the whole of the Board of Estimate that they had "raised" about $850,000 "by deferring the financing of some of the larger deficits until 1923; by reducing other deficits and by transferring released funds and other budget balances."

This is $56,000 more than enough.
 The committee accepted the report for the regular meeting of the board tomorrow.

This solves a problem in finance that has troubled Comptroller Craig for weeks. About $1,500,000 was borrowed from the pension and charities funds by the Borough Presidents early in the year and an additional $1,000,000 was required by departments that exceeded their 1922 allotments. Mr. Craig demanded an immediate settlement and his examiners searched the books of every department for surpluses.

"Done by a Little Juggling."

The departments reduced the deficit to $294,597, which finally was taken care of by what the Comptroller described as "a little juggling" by the borough heads.
 Edward Riegelmann of Brooklyn, chairman of the president's committee, explained that wherever possible payment of bills would be deferred until after January 1. He said:

"We're settling by this year. Next year the sun may shine."

Illustrating the methods of the committee, he said:

"Take, for instance, this item of $4,000 for repairing and repainting lamp posts, required by the Department of Water, Gas and Electricity. We simply will defer repairing these posts until next year and save $4,000. An item of $87,377 for special counsel fees will be put over.
 We are not going out to California and advise Senator Johnson to put in his bill before December 31."

The Johnson fee was for special legal work in transit and gas cases.

Deferred Payments $427,512.

Mr. Riegelmann's report showed $427,512 was saved by deferred payments, $27,465 by reductions by departments and $386,378 was the estimate total surplus of all city departments on December 31. Estimates were made by examiners of the Finance Department.
 The Corporation Counsel's office will save $202,354 by not paying some of its bills until next year. This amount is listed as follows: Special counsel fees, $87,377; telephone investigation, $25,000, and a reduction of $60,000 in an issue of special revenue bonds "for transit and telephone matters."

The Board of Education has discovered a surplus of $225,000 which the Committee of the Whole voted to use to help make up the tax deficiency, a separate account.

Comptroller Craig said later he thought the city would pull through without having to lay off any day laborers at Christmas, the possibility which worried the board most.

KILLED BY WHIRLING SAW.

RIVERHEAD, Dec. 6.—While several men were cutting wood with a power saw yesterday in Flinders, near here, the whirling blade flew into the air came down upon the head of Clarence Brown and injured him so that he died later in Southampton Hospital.

Drying-Poles

One of the inconveniences of the Arctic is that there is no place where things may safely be left. The omnivorous dogs devour clothing or boots left on the ground and the treeless waste offers no hanging place. Racks and poles are set up near dwellings and boots and clothing dried on them in the sunshine. The poles are imported on the trading schooner like all other building material.

DRY LAW BIG SPUR TO COUNTERFEITING

Booms Bogus Money Produc- tion as Means of Fleeing Bootleggers.

ENFORCEMENT CASH CUT

House Committee Reduces It
$250,000—Liquor Traffic
More Baffling.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau,
 Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.

Testimony before the House Committee on Appropriations shows that the Secret Service, United States marshals, prohibition officers and all other available Federal forces are being driven day and night to keep bootleggers and moonshiners in check. The demand of Roy A. Haynes, the dry commissioner, is always for "more money" and "more men." W. H. Moran, chief of the Secret Service, told the committee that a new sort of counterfeit, a product of the Volstead act, had sprung up and keeps him on the jump.

"We are just now very greatly troubled with some counterfeit bills of fair workmanship in the Eastern half of the country, much of which is being used in the purchase of bootleg whisky, which makes very much more difficult our work of running down the persons responsible for these counterfeiters," Mr.
 Moran said.

"On the Canadian border the counterfeiter is defrauding the people on the other side in the purchase of whisky by handing him counterfeit money for it."

"I suppose the point is," suggested Representative Magee (Rep., N. Y.), "that the man who receives the money is violating the law and consequently is not in position to mention it."

"I have in mind two cases where $15,000 of counterfeit $20 and $50 Federal Reserve notes was paid for whisky and at another time more than $1,200 in raised Federal Reserve notes was used to pay for the whisky intended to be brought across the border."

It was developed by the examination of Mr. Moran that this bootleg counterfeiting is on the increase and is extending to all countries that export liquor.

"We have received counterfeiters of our currency from Italy, from Austria, from Russia and from Poland, and they have made arrests in those countries of people counterfeiting our currency," he said.

He said more counterfeit issues had been investigated last year than in the two preceding years.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Nine million dollars for enforcement of prohibition, or $250,000 less than was authorized last year, is provided in the 1923-1924 Treasury supply bill, reported by the Appropriations Committee to-day to the House.

The totals for all purposes carried in the bill is $115,119,810, which is $2,757,918 less than last year and $2,713,953 below the budget estimate.

There were 38,826,195 taxable gallons of liquors in distilleries and bonded warehouses June 30, a table filed with the Appropriations Committee by the Bureau of Internal Revenue showed. This was 2,432,894 gallons less than on the same date in 1921.

The itemized liquor list follows:
 Whisky, 36,588,667 gallons; rum, 384,011; gin, 887,884; high wines, 1,073; alcohol, 543,247.

There were about 800,000 barrels of whisky in 232 bonded warehouses, 170 warehouses being in Kentucky.

WEEKS SAYS AMERICANS

SHOULD ASSIST EUROPE

Secretary of War Weeks, in an address before the Newark Chamber of Commerce last night in connection with the cornerstone laying of its new building said that the United States should help the other nations of the world in adjusting their difficulties and regaining prosperity, but he made no reference to action by the Government in that direction. With reference to a recent remark of M. Clemenceau that Europe and the whole world is in chaos, he said:

"Europe may be in chaos, but the United States is not, and one of the

Takes $30,000 Bootleg Bribe Cash as Evidence

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau,
 Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.

THE pockets of Saul Grull, dry agent, stationed at Pittsburgh, bulged with bribe money to-day as he stalked into the Treasury with $30,000 given to him by bootleggers, rum runners and illicit distillers. His case came under the personal notice of Secretary Mellon.

What Grull told the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau is not officially disclosed.
 What he did with the bribe givers also is a deep secret. At the Treasury it was said many of Pittsburgh's leading liquor folks are indicated in evidence now being prepared for the Grand Jury.

principal reasons we have escaped is the uncompromising attitude of the national Government in enforcing the most rigid economy.

"The main difficulty in America today is that some of our citizens are still looking for prosperity when it is here.

Instead of complaining of our lot, we would do well to give sincere thanks that we are so well off and endeavor to help the other nations of the world in adjusting their difficulties. This is not only our duty, from an altruistic standpoint, but for a very material reason.
 Europe is one of our best customers, and it is distinctly to our advantage to assist her to adjust her affairs so that she may resume trading with us."

SAMUEL MARX LEFT $100,000.

The will of Samuel Marx, Tammany district leader and Representative-elect from the Nineteenth district, was filed for probate yesterday by J. Sidney Bernstein of 233 Broadway. Mr. Marx died November 30.

The will, disposing of property said to be worth about $100,000, makes Mrs. Irene Marx, the widow, of 1846 Seventh avenue, the residuary legatee, on condition that she leave that share of the estate at her death to the Marx Fraternity, an organization of members of the Marx family, of which Mr. Marx was president when he died.

Mrs. Hannah Lustig of 528 West 150th street, a sister, received $5,000, and Tina Tunka, housekeeper, $500.

Surrogate Cohalan yesterday denied the application of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, temporary administrator of the estate of Park Benjamin, for an order vacating a notice for the examination of Miss Anna Bolchi (Benjamin) before the trial of the contest of Mr. Benjamin's will.

Park Benjamin, Jr., of 229 East Sixty-eighth street, explained that the testimony was "material and necessary" to the contestants in support of their contention that Miss Bolchi (as he refers to her) exercised fraud and undue influence, which resulted in the will offered for probate in which Mr. Benjamin's five sons and daughters were cut off with $1 each.
